Course Title:	American Government

Course Description

This is a one semester in-depth study of the founding documents to give students a deep and accurate understanding of the principles that framed our Republic. Classical learning techniques are emphasized. The student will gain research and study skills that build academic skill and character. The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution were written to be understood by the common citizen, reading and thoroughly understanding these documents are the goal of this course. This course teaches a Biblical view of law and government, the Founding Fathers - their beliefs and worldview, the Declaration of Independence, and a detailed study of the entire Constitution with review, discussion, and tests.
